WACHUSETT REGIONAL HIGH SCHOOL

HOLDEN, MASSACHUSETTS

NEAL T. SKILLINGS, PRINCIPAL

To the Class of 1959:

By the time you receive this yearbook, your years at Wachusett Regional High School will be coming to a close. We have been happy to have had you here and hope you also have profited by this association. Your contributions to this school have been many. Likewise, we are sure that you have gained numerous benefits from your attendance here.

May this record, in pictures and in print, of your high school career in the first regional high school in Massachusetts long be cherished.

We sincerely hope your future will be a complete success in whatever endeavor you may undertake.

Very best wishes to you all,

Neal T Skillings

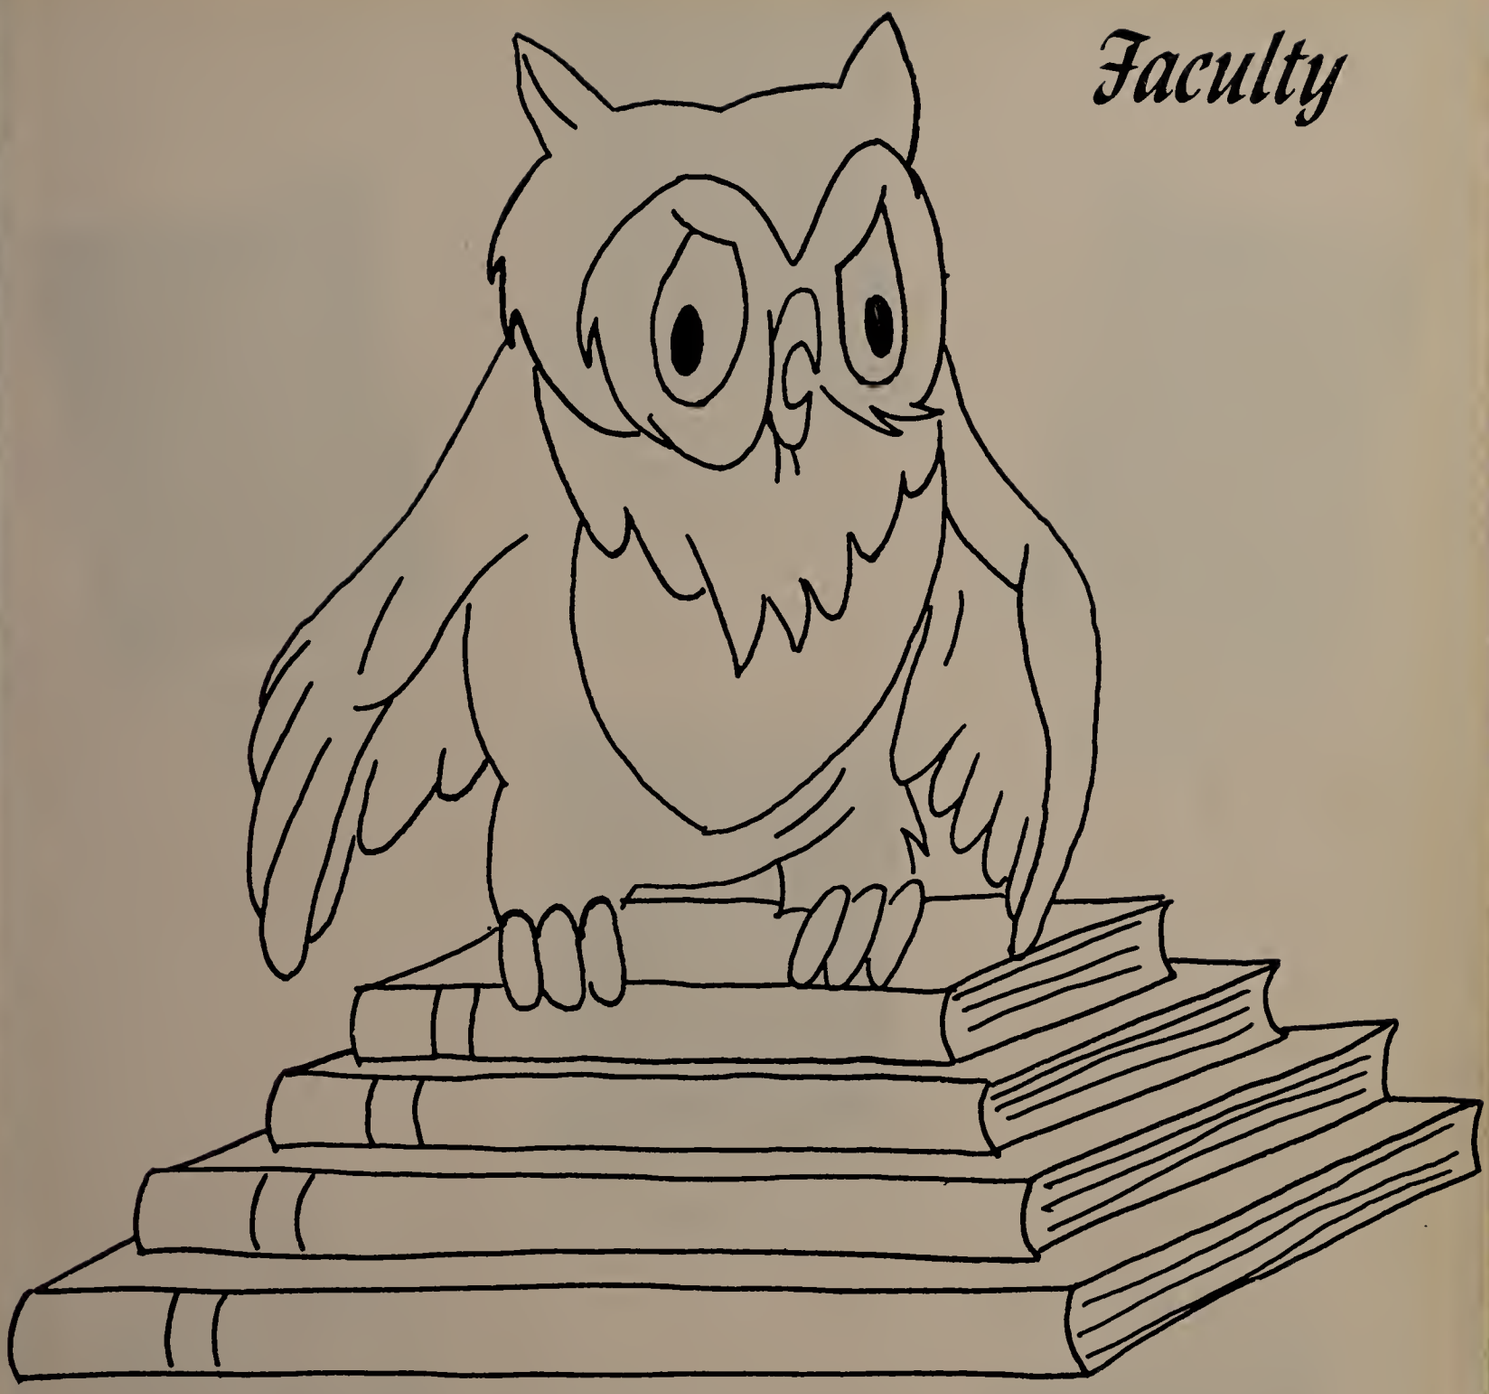
Superintendent of Schools

MR. WILLIAM H. BUKER

Forty-nine years of active devotion and dedication to education is being successfully completed this year. We feel, since eleven of those years have been fruitfully spent in Holden, that Mr. Buker deserves our thanks, our sincere gratitude, and our profound respect.

Faculty



In all seriousness we thank you all
For dedicating your lives that we might learn
What is requisite to lead the world on,
What to say—where to turn.

We seldom acknowledge how hard you worked
To prepare us in the way which you knew
Would benefit us in years to come,
Whatever may happen—whatever we do.

We cannot express the thanks which we owe
To you who have built our lives not on sand
But firmly on rock that we may be ready
To bear the burdens of leading the land.

Seniors

SENIORS

We have ended four years,
Now we go on to separate careers.
Although we will go our separate ways,
These pictures will recall our high school days.

ADELE HOLMES ACKLEY

"From far away, she came with a gay 'hello'!"

Adele was a new addition to the class in the junior year. Although she has been reserved in her manner, Adele has not failed in helping the class along the road of success. With her well-mannered ways, Adele is sure to have a promising future.

Gorham High School, Gorham, Maine, 1, 2; Basketball 1; Chorus 1, 2, 3, 4; French Club 2; Freshman Class Secretary, Freshman Dance Committee; Glee Club 4; Honor Roll 1, 2, 3; Hostess Career Night 1; Latin Club 1, 2 (Secretary 2); Librarian 2; Music Festival 1, 2; National Honor Society 3, 4; Senior Play; Student Council 2; Yearbook Staff.

ELAINE DOROTHY ADAMS

"Studies and boys are a good combination for me."

An unpredictable sense of humor and laughing blue eyes immediately identify Elaine. She's fun to be with and well-liked by everyone. Her ambition and willingness to do her share will be great assets for her success.

Chorus 1; Field Hockey 2, 3, 4; Honor Roll 3; Intramural Club 1; Junior Prom Committee; Monitor 4; Spanish Club 3, 4; Varsity Club 3, 4; Yearbook Staff.

ROBERT C. ADAMS

"Good nature and good sense are never separated."

Bob is the type of person you like to have around. He enjoys practically all sports and excels in all that he does. Bob is very serious and has his thoughts aimed towards college.

Basketball 2; Chemistry Club 3; Honor Roll 1, 2, 3; Junior Prom Committee; Officials Club 3; Science Fair 3; Yearbook Staff.

ELAINE SYLVIA AHLFORS

"Like a babbling brook, she chatters on forever."

Elaine is a very versatile girl, distinguishing herself with equal success in music and in studies. The Glee Club will surely miss her splendid voice. Elaine will go far in her teaching career.

Bank Teller 1, 3; Chorus 1, 2, 3, 4; Glee Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Honor Roll 2; Monitor 4; Yearbook Staff.

MILDRED IDA AHO

"A little bit of angel; a little bit of devil."

Millie can always be counted on as a true friend. Her capability and pleasing personality will help her become an outstanding nurse. Her happy disposition will build her a successful future.

Biology Club 2, 3; Chorus 2; French Club 2; Glee Club 2; Homeroom Bank Teller 3; Honor Roll 1, 2; Junior Prom Committee; Senior Play; Senior Prom Committee; Sodalitas Romana 1, 2.

GERALD JOSEPH ALISIO

"Real action is in silent moments."

Gerry has proven to be a valuable friend and classmate. Although he seems quiet, at times his mischief and quick wit contradict this impression. Whether it be the service or college, Gerry will succeed.

Honor Roll 1, 2.

LESLIE HAROLD ALLEN

"When done by him, it is well done."

Leslie is a wonderful bookkeeper and wishes to attend school to become a public accountant. Among some of his interests are photography, music, and reading.

Bank Teller 1; Senior Play; Willard Club 4.

ROBERT JOSEPH ALLEN

"Quiet paths are mine."

Bob came to us in his junior year and wasted no time making himself known to all. He plans to enter the ministry or business field. Whatever his choice, he is sure to succeed.

Sudbury High School 1; Lincoln-Sudbury Regional High School 2; Soccer Team (Manager) 2.

RICHARD RAYMOND AMES

"He capers, he dances, he has the eyes of youth."

Dick's innocent smile and carefree attitude will long be remembered in the hearts of his friends. His integrity and earnestness are hidden under a lackadaisical manner. He is sure to find success in the coming years.

Band 1, 2; Glee Club 2; Intramural Club 1, 2; Photography Club 3; Spanish Club 2, 3.

ELAINE AUDREY ANDERSON

"A kind heart is a fountain of gladness, making everything in its vicinity freshen into smiles."

Lainie's vivaciousness is most noted in the way she leads our cheerleaders and brings spirit to help our teams on to victory. Through the twinkle in her eye and the smile on her face, this diligent young miss wins friends.

Cheerleader 1, 2, 3, 4 (Captain 4); French Club 3 (Vice President); Freshman Chorus; Glee Club 2; Honor Roll 1, 3; Junior Prom Committee; Senior Play; Sodalitas Romana 2; Willard Club 3, 4; Yearbook Staff.

PAUL LEONARD ANDERSON

"Silence is a true friend that never betrays."

Paul is quiet until you get to know him. His future ambition is to see the world through a porthole by joining the Navy. His ambition and earnestness will lead him to success in the Navy.

Honor Roll 1; Science Fair 1; Volleyball 2.

SUSAN JANE ANDERSON

"Good humor is one of the best articles of dress one can wear in society."

That captivating bit of feminine attraction you see is none other than Susie. Beneath her winsome personality lies an interest in her school and classmates. Sue will never be forgotten for helping to make the four years at Wachusett happier ones.

Echo Staff 3; French Club 1, 2; Hockey 1, 3; Intramural Club 1, 2, 3; Junior Prom Committee; Monitor 1, 2, 3; Ski Club 3, 4; Student Council 1; Willard Club 3, 4; Yearbook Staff.

GAIL EDNA BAILEY

"Happy, merry, full of fun, known and loved by everyone."

Gail, though sometimes quiet, is always ready for a little fun. Her helpfulness towards others has brought her many friends. Worcester State Teachers College will be the next step in her education.

Band 1; Honor Roll 2; J.V. Field Hockey 2; Science Fair 3; Spanish Club 3, 4; Willard Club 4.

DONALD RAYMOND BARIL

"Nothing great was ever achieved without enthusiasm."

What is a band without drums? For two years Don has added much to the band's success as he drums out those all important beats with the enthusiasm and feeling a successful drummer needs. As a member of the Tritones, he has played for some school dances and has made several public appearances.

David Prouty High School 1, 2; Band 1, 2, 3, 4 (President 4); Chorus 3, 4; Glee Club 3, 4; Junior Prom Committee.

SANDRA LOUISE BATCHELDER

"Diligence is the mother of good fortune."

Sandy is the girl with the sweet and sunny smile that has won her many lasting friends and brightened many a school day. Always willing to do anything for others, she is certain to find success in the future.

Basketball 1; J.V. Basketball 2; Pep Squad 1; Chorus 1; French Club 3, 4; Honor Roll 2; Intramural Club 1, 2; Junior Prom Committee 3; Monitor 3, 4; Ski Club 3, 4; Senior Play; Senior Prom Committee; Yearbook Staff.

DAVID CALVIN BATES

"Laugh and the world laughs with you."

Dave appreciates a good joke and his laugh is contagious. He is a good sportsman and likes fishing and boating. His plans are to go to the Navy or to attend a radio-television school.

KENNETH MILTON BIGELOW

"A friendly smile for everyone."

Ken is a very popular and hard working member of the class. He is conscientious and succeeds in any task that he is given. His fairness to all will bring him much success in the future.

Honor Roll 3; Intramural Club 3; Monitor 4; Spanish Club 3, 4; Yearbook Staff.

PATRICIA ANN BILLSTEN

"A jolly girl, a live wire, the kind of which you never tire."

Pat is a hard-working and sociable friend who is always coming up with something new and different. She will make a welcome addition to any office.

Chorus 1; Echo Staff; Intramural Club 3; Junior Prom Committee; Majorettes 2, 3; Yearbook Staff.

HERBERT BELDING PRENTISS BINGHAM

"As carefree as the day is long."

Whenever there is michief afoot, Herbie is sure to be around. With his easy going manner he can get along with anybody and is sure to succeed. He plans to further his education at Boys' Trade.

Yearbook Staff.

PENELOPE IRENE BISSONETTE

"A happy disposition is a gift of the gods."

Penny's neatness and pleasing smile captivate everyone. Shining forth through her serious manner is an attractive, healthy radiance. Her versatility and poise will enable her to become the perfect model.

Glee Club 1; Monitor 4; Thespian Club 2, 3, 4.

WILLIAM BRUCE BJORNLUND

"A merry heart doeth good like a medicine."

A collegiate appearance, a mischievous smile, and a teasing word for everyone—these belong to Bruce. Through his leadership in various activities and his fine personality, he has become a favorite with his classmates. Bruce will certainly be as successful in the future as he has been in the past four years.

Camera Club 3, 4 (President 4); Echo Staff 1, 2, 3, 4 (Assistant Editor 3); Junior Prom Committee; Monitor 3; Senior Play; Senior Prom Committee; Ski Club 3, 4 (President 3); Track 1; Yearbook Staff.

SANDRA JANE BLAISDELL

"It is better to be small and shine than great and cast a shadow."

Sandy has created a fine impression as any of her classmates will readily concede. With her sense of humor and thoughtful ways, she has contributed much to the class. These attributes will certainly aid Sandy in attaining success.

Intramural Club 1.

LINDA BOND

"A quiet manner; a sure way to success."

Sincerity and friendliness are natural gestures for Linda. Her neat appearance alone has won her much admiration throughout her four years of high school. With her ability and winning ways, she will find success in the future.

Chorus 1; Honor Roll 1, 2, 3; Monitor 4; National Honor Society 3, 4; Senior Play Production.

GLORIA JANE BOUGHEY

"A good companion makes good company."

Gloria's interests in music have been shown in various ways through the four years. Although she practices many hours a week she still has time to be a successful student. She is sure to fulfill her musical ambitions.

Band 1, 2, 3, 4; Chorus 3, 4; Glee Club 3, 4; Honor Roll 1, 3; Junior Classical League 1; Monitor 4; Sodalitas Romana 1, 2.

EARLE BOYNTON

"A true friend keeps friends and few foes."

Earle is one of the most dependable and jovial members of the class. An enthusiastic basketball and volleyball player, he enjoys all sports. He likes the outdoors and intends to enter the field of conservation.

Intramural Basketball 1, 2, 3, 4; Intramural Volleyball 1, 2, 3, 4.

ROBERT BOYDEN BRODEUR

"Few men are so clever as to know all the mischief they do."

A twinkling bit of devil in his eyes, a cheery laugh and a witty personality sum up this happy-go-lucky fellow. Bob attended Birmingham High School in Birmingham, Michigan, and Tilton Academy, Tilton, New Hampshire. Having spent two years at Wachusett, he certainly deserves everything good coming to him in the future.

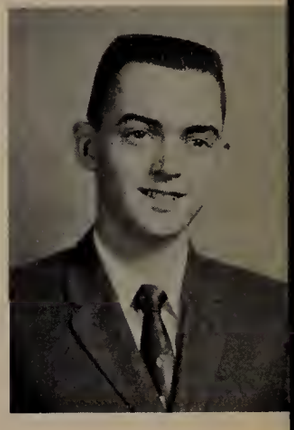
Birmingham High School (Birmingham, Michigan); Tilton Academy (Tilton, New Hampshire): Dramatic Club 2; Choir 1, 2; Glee Club 2; Ice Hockey 2; Lacrosse 2; Senior Play; Track 2.

DAVID ARTHUR BURNHAM

"To be honest, as this world goes, is to be one man picked out of ten thousand."

Dave is a sincere, yet quiet, member of the class. He possesses easy-going characteristics but deep down has the honest and willing desire to help others. The quality he has shown during these four years assure him of a successful future.

Intramural Club 3, 4.



DONNA LEE CAMPBELL

"A friend is a person with whom I may be sincere."

Although far from noisy, "Soupy" isn't exactly quiet. She is always willing to lend a hand in chasing the blues away. Happiness and success will surely be her constant companions in whatever she does.

Weymouth High School 1, 2; Assembly Committee 1; Honor Roll 1, 2, 3; Intramural Club 1, 2; Prom Committee 1; Student Council 1; Yearbook Staff; Senior Play.

GENE ROBERT CARLSON

"A gleam in his eye; a number one guy."

Gene, a good student, also has a sense of humor and dependability which makes him a good friend. His favorite is that little brown Ford, his trademark. His immediate goal is college.

Honor Roll 1, 2, 4; Intramural Basketball 1, 2, 3, 4; Intramural Football 2, 3; Intramural Volleyball 2, 3, 4; Library Club 1, 2.

LARRY P. CARLSON

"Good nature brings many friends."

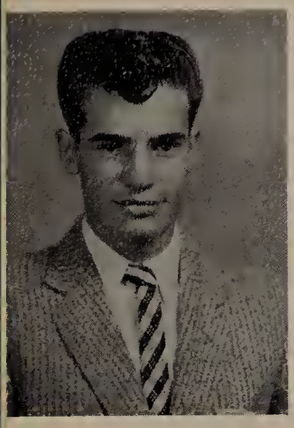
Larry's earnestness and willingness to help others have made him many friends in the year that he has been here. His infectious and mischievous sense of humor, topped by a keen mind and sincerity, makes him a person well worth knowing. Larry's warm, friendly manner is sure to lead him to success.

Coral Gables Senior High School (Miami, Florida) 1, 2, 3; Baseball 2, 3, 4; Basketball 3, 4; Football 2, 3, 4; Honor Roll 3; Track 3.

OSCAR HENRY CARLSON

"Write me as one who loves his fellow man."

Oscar is quieter than some of his classmates, but he is a person with many friends. Following school, he plans on an office job.



RODNEY ELMER CARLSON

"Full of fun and fancy free."

Rod has made many friends with his receptive ways and personality. His fellow students feel that Wachusett's loss will be the Service's gain.

Intramural Club 1, 2, 3.

JUDITH CHUPLIS

"A winning way, a pleasant smile, dressed so neat, and quite in style."

Judy's vivacious personality and bubbling laughter have won her many friends. Her interests consist of cheerleading, piano-playing, and swimming. Although she is undecided about her future, Judy will certainly find much happiness.

(Chandler Street Junior High 9); Basketball 3; Chorus 1, 2, 3; Softball 1.

MIRIAM CAROL CLAPP

"She is little, she is wise, she's a terror for her size."

Carol's rather moderate height is no indication of the immoderate amount of noise and confusion she can stir up. She is very mischievous and always ready for a good time. She hopes to continue her education in college.

Band 1, 2, 3, 4; Chemistry Club 3; Chorus 2, 3, 4; French Club 3, 4; Honor Roll 1, 2; Junior Classical League 1, 2, 3, 4; Monitor 4; Science Fair (Chemistry 1st prize 3); Senior Prom Committee; Sodalitas Romana 1, 2, 3, 4; Yearbook Staff.

ARTHUR L. CLOCKEDILE

"No sooner said than done—so acts your man of worth."

Everyone knows who Arthur is. How could one escape his friendly personality? After he finishes school, he plans to work. Art will put his mind to it and be successful in it as he has been in the four years at Wachusett.

LEITH LYMAN COBB

"Seldom heard, but always there."

Below that reticent manner lies the friendly personality of one who is always ready to give his utmost. This disposition will be a great asset in his study of biology.

Biology Club 2, 3; Chemistry Club 3; Chorus 2; French Club 2, 3, 4; Glee Club 2; Honor Roll 2, 3, 4; Sodalitas Romana 2, 3, 4; Yearbook Staff.

WILLIAM ROBERT COBB

"We find in life exactly what we put into it."

Bill is truly one of our best scholars. Although he seems to be the silent type, those who know him well have seen a different person. He plans to enter college next year in preparation for a career in scientific research.

Biology Club 2, 3; Chemistry Club 3; High Honor Roll 1, 2; Homeroom Bank Teller 2, 3, 4; National Honor Society 3, 4; Sodalitas Romana 1, 2, 3, 4 (President 3).

JANET MARION COLE

"Demure and quiet is she at school, but what is she away from rule?"

Who at Wachusett hasn't a warm spot in his heart for Jan? Although she appears to be the silent type, her friends know how effervescent she really is. She has indeed been a great asset to the class, and her nursing career will be just as successful.

Biology Club 2, 3, 4 (Vice President 3); French Club 2, 3, 4; Homeroom Bank Teller 1, 2, 3, 4; Junior Prom Committee; Monitor 4; Senior Play; Senior Prom Committee; Sodalitas Romana 1, 2, 3, 4; Yearbook Staff.

THERON METCALF COLE, JR.

"A mind equal to any undertaking placed before it."

College, here I come! Yes, Ron, besides being an excellent student, has an interest in sports and takes an active part in most phases of school life. A good friend and a good sport—a great future is in store for him.

Biology Club 2; Cross Country 4; Chemistry Club 3, 4; Echo Staff 2, 3, 4; High Honors 1, 2, 3, 4; Honor Society 3, 4; Junior Prom Committee; National Honor Society 3, 4; Senior Prom Committee; Science Fair 3 (Chemistry 3rd Prize); Senior Play; Track 3, 4; Yearbook Staff.

WILLIAM CHESTER CONGDON

"I'm sure glad it's Friday."

William is an earnest, easy-going fellow, without a care in the world. He is always around and willing to help when needed. His clean-cut appearance and ways will lead him to success.

Basketball Manager 2, 3.

GERALDINE CONNOR

"Full of pep and vigor—a great sportswoman."

Geri gets enjoyment out of athletics, both from participating herself and from watching others. She has been a great asset to the school's teams. After graduation, Geri plans to enter the Women's Air Force.

Basketball 1, 2, 3, 4; Field Hockey 1, 2, 3, 4; Intramural Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Senior Play Production; Showboat 3; Thespian Club 3, 4.

ALAN CHARLES COOLIDGE

"Farewell, a long farewell, to all my greatness."

Al is an asset to our class. His many friends know him for his mischievous personality and his sincere sense of humor.

Intramurals 1, 2, 3, 4; Monitor 4; Senior Play Production.

LAWRENCE RAYMOND COX

"A friendly smile and full of fun."

Lawrence is very fond of outdoor sports; among his favorites are hunting and fishing. His ability to be friendly, likable, and courteous has won him many friends. He has definite plans to attend college.

Intramural Club 1, 2, 3.

NANCE COYLE

"Dear as the light that visits all our eyes."

Nance, with the promise of fun in her eyes and a warm personality, is a friend of all. Having a flair for fashion, she plans to go further into its study. She will be a success in anything she does.

Springfield Township Senior High (Philadelphia, Pa.) 1, 2; Chorus 2, 3, 4; Intramural Club 1, 2; Junior Prom; Glee Club 3, 4; Majorette 3, 4; Twirling Club 2; Yearbook Staff.

ALAN ADAMS CREAMER

"Good nature and good sense are never separated."

Alan is a likable senior who is interested in cars. Unassuming and soft-spoken mannerisms have gained him recognition with his classmates. His future plans seem to be in the field of commercial art.

Audio-Visual Club 1.

JANET CROCCO

"For she was the quiet kind, whose nature never varies."

Janet will go far with her friendly, calm manner. Although she is quiet, she has not failed to be a capable and dependable classmate. Janet's chosen profession is hairdressing.

South High (Worcester) 1; Biology Club 2, 3 (Treasurer); Senior Homemakers Club 3, 4; Yearbook Staff.

KENDALL ALLAN CROSS

"He's a regular guy; why say more."

Always nonchalant and carefree, Casey is a great addition to any happy group. His willingness has won him many friends. He is sure to succeed.

Basketball 1, 2, 3; Football 1, 2; Student Council 1, 2.

ANN CURTIS

"Modesty is the beauty of women."

Who's the cute brunette chattering and giggling in the corridors? Why, that's Ann, who can make any occasion loads of fun. With these qualities and her high scholastic ability, she is sure to do well in the future.

Chorus 1; Echo Staff 3, 4; Honor Roll 2, 3; Intramural Club 1, 2, 3; Glee Club 1; Junior Prom Committee; Majorettes 3, 4; Pep Squad 1, 2; Ski Club 4; Spanish Club 2, 3; Yearbook Staff; Willard Club 4.

GAIL RUTH CURTIS

"What was I put on this earth for if not to talk?"

Gail's friendliness has been radiated to all in the past four years. She enjoys chatting and through her pleasant conversations she has become well acquainted with her classmates. With her friendly manner and willingness to work, Gail will certainly be successful in her goal, the commercial field.

Echo Staff 4; Honor Roll 3; Junior Prom Committee; Senior Homemakers Club 3, 4; Senior Play; Thespian Club 2, 3 (Treasurer 2); Yearbook Staff.

PHYLLIS ANNE DARRAH

"This above all: to thine own self be true."

Phil is a lively girl with a pleasing personality and many friends. A neat appearance and bright smile make up some of the good qualities of this senior.

Honor Roll 1; Science Fair 2; Senior Homemakers; Senior Play Production; Yearbook Staff.

JOAN ANN DAVIS

"Noise is not necessary for success."

Quiet and reserved, Joan goes about her work silently but does the job well. She, as few know, is a mechanic and can fix anything on a car. Although her talents are varied, her loyalty and friendship are constant. The future will certainly reward such a fine person.

Echo Staff 4; Yearbook Staff.

RUTH ELIZABETH DAVIS

"The best things come in small packages."

Ruthie is one of the smallest and cutest members of our class. Her cheerful smile and pleasant personality have made her many friends. Ruthie's quiet appearance and feminine ways will make her a success in the business world.

Honor Roll 2.

WILLIAM DAVIS

"Hard work and hard play, it's just part of my day."

Will, known for his collegiate dress and big smile, is an asset to football, track, and hockey, his favorite game. Will's future plans include college.

Echo Staff 4; Football 3, 4; Intramural Volleyball 2, 3, 4; Monitor 4; Spanish Club 3, 4; Track 3.

ALMA MATER

Proudly Wachusett stands high on a hill,
O'erlooks the valley, the mount, and the rills.
We gladly sing of our high school days,
To dear Wachusett we give all our praise.

Loudly the echoes your honor proclaim.
Through all the years we'll remember your name.
On your strong rock our foundation is laid,
So through the years our love cannot fade.

Now as we separate may we recall,
The love that binds us one and all,
May God's will hold promises true,
And now Wachusett our praises to you.

SONG OF THE CLASS OF 1959

Tune: "Look for the Silver Lining" by Jerome Kern

So long, farewell forever
We now are leaving Wachusett High.
Rememb'ring those times we had together
And now we hate so to say goodbye to all of you who've
Giv'n us joy with our learning;
We'll always cherish mem'ries of you.
And though we leave now, we will stay loyal,
True to our school—Wachusett High

History of the

On the staircase of learning, four of the steepest and most important steps are our high school years; steep because learning has become more specialized, and important because our future success and happiness may well depend on what we have done here. In high school, pupils are evaluated not only in scholastic standing, but also in social standing. Participation in extracurricular activities helps to prepare students for a split with home life and a taking up of individual responsibilities in college or on the job.

Here is a record of all we, the Class of 1959, have accomplished in these four years. We hope it demonstrates to all who read it that when all the members of a class accept their responsibilities and work together, much is learned and much fun is had.

Entering the modern portals of vast Wachusett for the first time, we, the representatives of six relatively small towns gasped in astonishment at what lay before us for four years. To the right and left of us were confusing mazes of corridors stretching for what seemed miles into various wings. Only by trial and error could we find our respective classrooms; this, of course, being much to the amusement of the lordly upperclassmen.

Getting into the swing of things, however, we quickly adjusted ourselves to the long, stretching lunch lines, crowded corridors, hustle and bustle of gym classes, and the agony of lost locker keys. We became veterans and finally made the grade.

Class elections were soon held. The capable officers elected to represent the Class of 1959 were William Zinno, president; Larry Sylvester, vice president; Helen Garside, secretary; and Janet Lofgren, treasurer. Class meetings were called by the president to determine class dues and to discuss various other topics of importance to the class.

With true class spirit, we began to participate in many of the activities offered by the school. In chorus, band, and glee club were found the musical members of our class, while sports claimed those interested in athletics. In the meantime, still others of us were actively participating in Latin, French, Library and Science Clubs, these not only being extracurricular activities, but beneficial additions to class work in these subjects as well.

We saved and hoarded our pennies to buy tickets to games and dances sponsored by the Student Council or individual classes for the benefit of the student body. Naturally, we all flocked to the senior play to watch a very enjoyable production.

As the year went by, we found ourselves becoming more and more a part of high school life, giving and taking of the extended advantages offered to us. When the last month of our freshman year came into view with its final exams and last minute flurries of excitement, we experienced a certain amount of satisfaction and pride in the year's work.

Up to the close of school, we lived in a state of anticipation mixed with despair until we received our report cards. Wonder of wonders! They announced that next year we would no longer be freshmen, but sophomores! With this to look forward to, school was adjourned for the summer vacation, bringing an end to a wonderfully varied and eventful year.

With the realization that we were no longer Wachusett's youngest, we returned to school a little more worldly-wise and sophisticated than we were at this same time last year. Of course, we in turn looked down on the new freshmen and treated them the same way we had been treated.

Classes soon began in earnest, but this year we had no trouble in finding our classrooms. Those elected to manage the affairs of the Class of '59 in the coming year were Larry Sylvester, president; Harold Vickery, vice president; Helen Garside, secretary; and Doris Paquette, treasurer. Since we had so capable a group in the Student Council, the best interests of our class were well represented.

This year, more than ever, we began to be conscious of the talents bestowed upon our fellow classmates. In athletics, the names of William Zinno, Ronald Henderson, Robert Hughes, John Larson, Ronald Granberg, Judith Decker, Cecile Hyland, Betty Steele, Betty Fogg, Janet Lofgren, and many others became synonymous with great competitive spirit. Many of our classmates names headed the honor lists time and time again.

Winter came bringing with it many dances and the annual Christmas play, in which many of our sophomores performed.

June was upon us much too quickly. It seemed that the year had fairly flown by. The inevitable report cards were marked, telling us that from now on we were to be upperclassmen. This wonderful news filled us with pride and delight, and as the summer holiday drew near, we looked forward to the day we would return to school as juniors.

At last September, 1957, rolled around the Mountain and we were upperclassmen. Even though we hadn't lost our vitality and our everlasting potential, our West Boylston classmates had left our doorstep for one of their own. However, the fall semester descended upon us with a burst of steam in our classes and on our athletic field. Junior boys who assisted the Mountaineers during the football season were Wayne Wagner, John Larson, Bill Zinno, Jerome George, Willy Davis, and Ronald Henderson. The boys were greatly encouraged by the spirited efforts of our school's cheerleaders, two of whom, Elaine Anderson and Sandra Smith, were serving as proud representatives of our class.

On the feminine side of our athletic field, the Varsity Hockey team was having another successful year with the able assistance of eight of our classmates: Linda Field, Elaine Adams, Betty Steele, Geraldine Connors, Janice Holmes, Cecile Hyland, Judy Decker, and Marjorie Hodgson.

Class of 1959

This fall at Wachusett a new sport emerged—fall track. Under the able assistance of our class, the cross-country team gained an enviable record. Bob Lund (undefeated) and Dick Flagg, co-captains and high scorers, along with two other high scorers, Bob Day and Jerry Sherwin, were our class' proud contributions.

After such a vigorous football season, we enthusiastically turned to basketball. Our class made up one-half of Wachusett's successful basketball team through Bob Majewski, Brian Phillips, Bob Hughes, Bill Zinno, and Michael Power. The girls' basketball team's undefeated season was definitely gained through the energy of Cecile Hyland, Martha Otto, Marjorie Hodgson, Faith Travis, Geraldine Connors, Judy Decker, Betty Hubbard, and Betty Fogg.

Spring brought to us success, joy, and deep sadness. Success came through our baseball team which included Bob Day and John Zalansky and our spring track with Dick Flagg, Bob Lund, Bill Zinno, and John Larson. May 23, "Martian Holiday," our junior prom, filled us with joy and satisfaction due to its tremendous success. Iris Mardirosian and Ronnie Wood, co-chairman, and Janice Malo, head of the decorations department, are those to be thanked for this success.

However, our class saw another side of life during its Junior year, grief and the loss of two classmates. Suzanne Fiske and Brent DeWalt died within a very short time of each other, leaving us in tears of sorrow.

June 30 was approaching fast, and in the midst of summer heat and scholastic finals, we chose the people to lead us next year. Iris Mardirosian and Gordon MacPhee were chosen the co-editors of our yearbook. Our senior class officers were elected with William Zinno as president; Cecile Hyland, vice president; Edith Mooney, treasurer; and Elaine Anderson, secretary.

We officially became seniors on September 3, 1958, and naturally we were just the best little ole senior class Wachusett had ever tried to hold within its walls! As seniors we had to face many added burdens, among the first of which was our Senior Play.

Following a pep talk by our drama instructor, Mr. Barker, a grand total of twenty-one boys and one lonely, but happy girl was cast for our two-act play "Mr. Roberts." Under the capable guidance of Mr. Barker and his stage manager Marjorie Hodgson, the crew of the AK601 worked diligently to piece our play together. The back-stage crew, Mr. Bowes, Mr. Lindbergh, and the front office all worked their fingers to the bone to give "Mr. Roberts" the perfect touch. Opening night came so fast, yet our crew with its leading men, Bill Zinno, Ronald Henderson, Bob Hughes, Ronald Wood, and Robert Brodeur, and its alternating ladies Elaine Anderson, Sue Hilsinger, and Roberta Zimmerman were ready and waiting to do a splendid job. Our play was the first to be presented at Wachusett for three nights standing—we were so proud!

During all this hubbub our football team was rolling up a very worthy record. Its co-captains, Bill Zinno, John Larson, and Phil Helle, Ronnie Henderson, Will Davis, Bob Hughes, Ron Lamoine, Wayne Wagner, and Ron Granberg did their job along with the rest of our classmates, to compile this record.

Judith Decker and Cecile Hyland were the Girls' Hockey Team's co-captains during our last year at W.R.H.S. The girls from our class, Betty Steele, Joyce Wilman, Helen Zottoli, Linda Field, Marjorie Hodgson, Janice Holmes, Geraldine Connors, and Elaine Adams helped the team score its third undefeated season.

In its second year, Wachusett's fall track team followed its excellent record of last year. Our class members who participated were Bob Lund and Dick Flagg (co-captains), Bob Day and John Hyland.

Elaine Anderson, our class representative and captain of the cheerleaders, kept our school spirit going strong throughout football and basketball.

After our last Christmas vacation at Wachusett, we came back to school and another exciting basketball season. During the season the boys, Bob Hughes and Mike Power, co-captains, Brian Phillips, Ted Hyland, Bill Zinno, John Larson, Kendall Cross, Bob Day, and Robert Majewski, did their best to make us proud of them. The girls had another wonderfully successful season under the leadership of their co-captains Betty Hubbard and Judith Decker.

Everyone will agree that our sports life was exciting, but our happiest night was that of March 20, 1959. Our faces were pictures of complete joy and satisfaction as we danced the night away under the breath-taking motif of our Senior Prom—"Misty Moments." While we were enjoying the wonderful music of Eddie Sham's orchestra we could not help but feel a deep sense of gratitude to Janice Malo, Robin Moule, Audrey Scott, Barbara Fairbanks, Rhuhamah Gaw, and all our other fellow classmates who contributed so much to make this night one none of us will ever forget.

Time simply flew past us and before we knew it spring had arrived bringing with it successful baseball and track seasons. As June 1 approached we were kept busy with final examinations and, of course, graduation preparations.

It was wonderful being together for our Senior Banquet at which we all ate our fill and received our Yearbooks. After struggling through the last final exams we will ever take at Wachusett, we rehearsed feverishly for that big night of our Senior year.

Here all we have accomplished is set before us, and we may realize as never before how much fun we have had and how much we have learned in such a short while. We are now ready to go out into the world, and we hope the years ahead may be as profitable as those we spent at Wachusett Regional High School.

Prophecy,

THEME: A TOUR THROUGH THE LIBRARY OF CONGRESS

Come with us; we are going on a trip into the future to check up on some old high school friends from the fabulous class of 1959, at Wachusett Regional High School. We have heard rumors that many of our classmates drifted to Washington, D. C., after graduation, and we have decided to visit the Library of Congress there to see who we can see.

We have been invited to tour the library with the Honorable Sultan Will Davis, ruler of Shish-Ka-Bob, who is visiting Washington for a conference with the President. With him are his wife, the former Marguerite Sinkewich of Paxton, Massachusetts, his secretary, Larry Carlson, and his famous underworld body guards, Carl Hurst and Michael Lanciani. We feel well protected if nothing else!

We enter the Library through the door, naturally, and approach the information desk to our right, where we see none other than Betty Hubbard employed as information girl. Betty intrduces us to the special guide assigned to the Sultan, Kendall Cross, who leads us first to the elevator. We remember that K. C. always did like to take people for a ride.

Up we go at eighty miles an hour to the twelfth floor, chatting meanwhile with the elevator operator, who is David Ellis.

The first department we come to after leaving the elevator and David, is a record room which sounds pretty good. Going nearer we hear the lovely soprano voice of Elaine Ahlfors singing the title tune from the Broadway Musical hit, Aunty Maimed, in its 26th year of success.

When we enter the room we are immediately drawn to the album collection and begin to look through it. We aren't too surprised to see Geraldine Connor with a guitar on the cover of the first album, Gerry Sings Elvis; looking further we come upon another familiar name on the cool album Jazz Interpretations of Paul Gray; and in the classical section we find The New Unfinished Symphony written by the old master himself, Dave Burnham.

At a table to the rear we notice a lovely blonde head bent over a large volume. The head belongs to Roslyn Mason who is reading the Encyclopedia of Contemporary Musicians by Wayne Wagner. Wayne used to sing in the shower.

Next to Roslyn we find Peter Tarbell pouring over the latest (19—) Who's What. Under C he has found the Cobb Twins, famous for their Extra safe safety-car.

We hear a loud crash and rush into the next room to find Graeme Eldridge under a pile of books on the floor. He had toppled from his ladder where he had been dusting books on the top shelf. We pick up one book which is an autobiography of Phil Helle entitled My Grave Moments.

Leaving this scene we walk over to a room of censors where we find the head censor is Suzanne Dione. (We don't know whose head she censors). The book on which she is working is I was a Wild Wild Child by Paula Farrell. Her assistant, Sue Hilsinger, comes bounding in with the latest scandal, How I Love My Thunderbird, a book by Helen Zottoli.

In the corridor again we see a door marked "Modern Dance Class" and decide to peek in. We find Margie Hodgson and Judy Sperl coached by the co-ordination expert, Martha Anne Otto. After talking to the girls we learn that John Larson and Ronald Granberg are planning to join the ballet dancing class soon.

Next, we decide to stop in at the lounge for a little relaxation before continuing our trip. As we sink back in our "Pooped People Chairs" invented for the library by Joan Furmanick, we become conscious of an ear-piercing ring. We hop up and to our amazement see John Grinkas in a Santa Claus suit vigorously ringing a little bell beside his pot.

We are quite refreshed after this and continue on our tour, visiting next the library's art exhibit. A lovely painting catches our eyes as we enter, and upon looking closer we see that it is the well known work "Hooper's Mother" by Neal.

Going further we come upon a small modern art class in session. Here we see Albert Fontaine, Gail Curtis, and Paul Anderson, with their instructor, Barbara (Michelangelo) Fischer. We peek around Gail's easel and see that she is designing a new wrapper for Mother Gaw's Whole Grit Bread.

We leave the painters and stumble into a sculpturing class where all the students are working together on a giant economy size statue of the famous Broadway star Roberta Zimmerman. We strike up a conversation with Alan Creamer, who points out Janet MacGregor, working on the statue's head, Carol Clapp molding the arms and legs, and Gerry Alisio helping here and there. Library messenger Joan Davis comes in with the telegram that Sir Thomas Pepin of Scotland Yard will be in at ten to question the class about his latest case. It seems that the visiting British dignitary Theodore Hyland was robbed of his English bike yesterday while he attended art class.

Hearing raucous music we again run to the window and see a huge parade marching by. We notice that all the marchers are light-headed and then see a big sign reading "Annual American Blondes' Convention," carried by Elaine Adams, Sandra Kivisto, Betty Fogg, Janet Larson, Melanie Widing, Dianne Erickson, and Jordan Dean leading the parade. They are holding their convention just outside of town at Friel's Irish Food Farm, run, of course, by Maureen, an authority on Irish Food Farms.

Our guide, Mr. Cross, reminds us that we have not yet visited the motion picture room, and so we decide to make that our next stop. We board the elevator and zoom down six floors to floor six. When the elevator door opens we are nearly run down by two important-looking ladies. Turning around we see that on their backs are huge packs stamped M. & F. & Sons, Termite Exterminators. We call out angrily to these rude women and when they turn around, lo and behold, they are Peggy Miles and Linda Field. So of course we stop a minute to chat and are told that the girls have been hired to inspect the library for bookworms.

After our conversation we hurry on to the motion picture room to view Ronald Q. LeMoine's latest film extravaganza, I Was a Teenage Mongoose, adapted for the screen from the novel "My Seventeen Years in the Jungle" by Barbara Fitch. The movie is just starting this minute as we tiptoe in and sit down. In the list of credits we notice a few familiar names: Special Sound Effects (Monkey Screams and Hyena Giggles) by Carol Vanesse; Monkey's coiffeurs styled by Mary Holopainen; lion skins fitted by Nancy Nygard. The movie begins—

It's a beautiful day in the jungle and we see our star, Pat Sanders, driving her Jeep recklessly over fallen coconuts and between tall palms, a gun in one hand, a compass in the other, and a half-baked anchovy in her mouth. She seems to be heading for a day of hunting in the jungle. As she pulls up her jeep beside a row of little grass huts, out comes co-star Jill Jefrey with her rifle ready to join Pat for their dangerous trek into Bongo Bongo land in their search for the nearly extinct yellow-bellied Mongoose. This is the last day of the girls' safari which they won as a prize on the TV Quiz show, "$64,000 Fraud" or "Know Your Encyclopedia."

The two drive on a little further till they come to a small clearing in the center of which sits a little white hospital. A white figure steps through the doorway and we see the jungle's angel of mercy, Mary Ellen Murphy, R. N., P. Q. S. T., who is going along to help in an emergency, in case the girls bag a pygmy instead of a Mongoose.

Pat starts the car and they zoom off into the deep, dark jungle. The scene fades and picks up again two hours later at the huge water hole. Three fashionably dressed cannibal women, played by Patricia Billsten, Barbara O'Handley, and Elizabeth Laig, are stooped over looking at a small object on the ground. We realize with horror that it's Pat's compass, which she must have dropped while passing through. So the three girls are lost alone in the cannibal territory! The women utter a few strange words which sound like "oo,ee,oo-ah-ah, ting-tang, walla-walla, bing-bang," and taking the compass, head down a narrow path. Night falls (thud) and out of the darkness come two headlights, immediately followed by a jeep. It's our poor lost hunters trying to find their way home. Suddenly with wild shouts, a tribe of Bongo Bongo's rushes out and surrounds the girls. Under the charcoal we recognize the features of Robert Day, Leslie Allen, and Gene Carlson among the cannibals. With spears raised they violently force the girls from the jeep and into the Bongo village. We fear the worst for our girls.

The scene switches to the Bongo campfire; more native women, played by Judy Wisner, Joan Jatrinksi, and Bev Haddad, are gleefully boiling water in a huge black cauldron and preparing for a feast. As the captives are dragged in and tied to stakes, the whole tribe gathers and forms a circle around them. To the wild drum beats of the official jungle drum thumper, Janet Cole, the cannibals chant wildly, while three young girls, Sandra Blaisdell, Barbara Kapulka, and Joanne Prescott, do a native dance around the pot. We are so engrossed in the movie that we fail to hear our guide's whispers and when he nudges us, we jump with shock. To our dismay, we have to leave the picture just as the men close in!

Back outside in the corridor, we have to squint in the bright light, and sigh with relief that it was just a movie and not real.

Our tour has come to an end, but before we leave the Library, we want to visit the gift nook on the first floor and stop for a minute at the coffee shop next door.

This time our elevator operator turns out to be Audrey Scott, who is so flustered at seeing the Sultan in his turban that she presses the emergency button by mistake. This imediately turns on the sprinkler system and we enjoy a light shower. She finally finds the right button, and we travel rapidly to the first floor. After emerging from our dousing, we go over to the hot air vent in one wall to dry off. Seeing our predicament, a lobby hostess, Adele Ackley, brings us warm towels and warm apologies for our discomfort.

Needing some hot coffee to settle our nerves, we enter the coffee shop and sit at the counter. After reading the menu we order Madame Rouseau's French Pastry with our coffee, remembering that Carol was a cellmate—a schoolmate of ours back in the good old days.

The coffee and pastry are delicious, and after relaxing there for a few minutes we continue on to our last stop, the gift nook. When we come to the souvenir case, we have to wait a while because the clerk, Carolyn Spencer, and Linda Bond, her customer are discussing how to care for the baby elephant Linda had just bought for her Republican niece. We browse around but because all our money got wet we're too embarrassed to spend it.

Out on the sidewalk, finally, we button up our coats against the wind and buy a newspaper, the Washington Echo, from corner newstand owner, Don Baril. The glaring headlines "Explosion Ruins Massachusetts School" meet our eyes and reading further we discover that James Reidy, noted chemist, finally fulfilled his life's dream, blew up Wachusett Regional High School, his old alma mater.

With our newspaper in hand we climb into the Sultan's waiting limousines. But just as we are pulling away from the curb, the little man in red comes running up to the cars and calls, "Ho, Ho, Ho, Merry Christmas!"

We've had a choice—varied and wide,
Of activities indoors and those outside.
There are so many—we shall insist,
You turn the page for a complete list.
Pictures are there of all of our friends,
'Cause without such activities a day never ends.

The 1958 Cross-Country team had the distinction of being undefeated. Five meets were held; our boys showed the result of intensive and serious training. Wachusett won a decisive victory over David Prouty of Spencer. Wachusett—21, David Prouty—42. The top three positions were held down by Robert Lund, John Hyland, and Robert Day. Their times were 10:48.5, 11:10, 11:12 respectively. Richard Flagg placed eighth with a time of 11:23. George Sherwin placed a fast fourteenth.

Going on to further glory, Wachusett ran away from Southbridge by a score of 18-41. Positions one, two, three, four, and eight were captured in order by Robert Lund, Richard Flagg, John Hyland, Robert Day, and George Sherwin.

Once again Wachusett showed its prowess against St. Johns of Worcester, defeating them 19 to 48. Eight from the first ten to finish came from Wachusett: Robert Lund—first, Richard Flagg—second, Robert Day—third, George Sherwin—sixth, John Elmendorf—seventh, John Hyland—eighth, Theron Cole—ninth, and Steven Gurry—tenth. The winning time was 10:23.

Keeping up its good pace, Wachusett defeated Tantasqua Regional High School 21 to 39. Robert Lund again taking the honors was followed closely by John Hyland and Richard Flagg, who placed third and fourth. George Sherwin placing sixth and Robert Day placing seventh gave Wachusett the meet. Sam Lund, John Elmendorf, and Theron Cole finished strongly placing ninth, tenth, and twelfth.

At our school was held the Wachusett Regional Invitational Cross-Country meet. Due to poor weather the time was a bit slower, but the shining Mountaineers won again.

The top four runners from Wachusett were Robert Lund—third, Richard Flagg—sixth, John Hyland—eighth, and Robert Day—ninth.

The Wachusett Regional participated in the annual Knights of Columbus Meet, winning the team trophy. Robert Lund finished seventh.

The K. of C. ended the season for Wachusett Regional High School. Congratulations to their fine coach, Mr. Albert Theriault, and to a great team for doing such a fine job.

Boys' Intramural Club

The Boys' Intramural Club sets up and arranges the intramural sports program for the school. The program is designed to give instruction and enjoyment to many who are not on regular teams and to introduce many non-varsity sports to the athletic program. Trophies and plaques are awarded to the winning team in each section.

Girls' Intramural Officers

Girls' Intramural Club

The Girls' Intramural Club gives those girls who are not able to be on varsity and junior varsity teams a chance to compete on a team. In this way the girls get a chance to meet new acquaintances, learn good sportsmanship, and improve their athletic skills. They have tournaments in such sports as basketball, volleyball, and badminton.

In Appreciation

To the group who have made our yearbook possible—

MRS. CREAMER

We, the editors of the Wachusett '59, would like to thank our staff for the time and hard work they contributed to the yearbook. We would especially like to honor the following people without whom the yearbook would not have been possible:

Mrs. Francis C. Creamer, whose patience, helpfulness, understanding, and unwavering faith held the yearbook together.

Mr. Ralph J. Wadsworth, for his guidance in the writing and proofreading, and his inspirational ideas in comprising the yearbook.

Mr. John Bushong and Mr. Peter Houmere for their patience in taking pictures, and their influence on the format of our yearbook.

Carol Rousseau, our outstanding salesman and business manager, who has set the highest selling mark ever.

Anne Newell, for her poetry and special writing.

Barbara Fischer, our Art Editor, whose cleverness and hard work added something to each page.

We sincerely hope that this yearbook will hold your fondest memories of four successful years at Wachusett.

You say your pen is inkless
You need another one?
You say your car is old
A new one's much more fun?
You say your senior picture is
Fading on the wall?
You say you need some oil
But you don't know whom to call?
Before you try the phone book
Those pages—are they yellow?
Patronize these firms
This group of real fine fellows.
They made it oh, so possible
For us to make the book
Most certainly you can't miss
For this is where to look!
